

Come along on Sunday, 1 October between 1pm and 3pm at the Rockdale Road Crematorium.

It has been 40 years since the Southland Crematorium was officially opened servicing the needs of Southlanders.

To mark this occasion, Invercargill City Council Parks will be hosting an open day for members of the public to come along and view the facilities.

Council staff will be available to show people around the Crematorium and discuss the various options available for cremation and burial services.
