

SECTION NINE

APPENDIX I – INFORMATION TO ACCOMPANY APPLICATIONS

1. INFORMATION TO ACCOMPANY LAND USE RESOURCE CONSENT APPLICATIONS

1.1 Introduction

Efficient and effective processing of resource consents requires a partnership between Council and resource consent applicants. Early discussions with Council officers and liaison with affected parties in the initial stages of any resource consent application will be beneficial.

1.2 Forms and fees

Forms for resource consent applications and schedules of fees are available at Council's office in Invercargill and at the Bluff Service Centre.

1.3 Information to be Submitted by Applicant

Council requires that applications for resource consent contain sufficient information to enable them to be processed. Discussions with staff about information requirements prior to submitting an application can save unnecessary work, or delays in the processing of the application.

Council may require any or all of the following information with applications for resource consent:

- (a) A description of the site including existing uses and buildings.
- (b) A description of the land use activity for which the consent is being sought.
- (c) A list of all other resource consent applications that may be required from other consent authorities (e.g. the Southland Regional Council), indicating whether or not the applicant has applied for such consents.
- (d) An assessment of any actual or potential effects that the activity may have on the environment and the ways in which those adverse effects may be mitigated (see Resource Management Act 1991 Fourth Schedule). This includes matters specified in the Plan over which Council has retained control.
- (e) Copies of the certificates of title for the subject sites.
- (f) Drawings illustrating the proposal.
- (g) A description of any natural hazards affecting the land, together with an assessment of how the proposal will affect, or be affected by any hazard, and any measures proposed to avoid, remedy or mitigate those effects and the effects of those measures.

These drawings must include the details set out below, where applicable:

- (h) A drawing showing the location of the site, with road names, property numbers and north point.
- (i) A site plan to appropriate scale of the property illustrating:
 - (i) The location of any areas of significant indigenous vegetation and significant habitats of indigenous fauna.
 - (ii) The location of any areas of outstanding natural features or landscapes.
 - (iii) The location of any water bodies, wetlands or buffer strips.
 - (iv) The location and dimensions of any signage to be placed on the site.
 - (v) Location of all existing structures and proposed structures: including where applicable, balconies, outdoor living courts, and verandahs.
 - (vi) Proposed use of each building.
 - (vii) Position of any easement over the site.
 - (viii) Position, location and dimensions of every off-street parking and loading space and the proposed access and manoeuvring areas including the location and width of footpath crossings necessary to serve such space.
 - (ix) Topography of the site; including information on the extent and nature of any actual or proposed fill on the site.
 - (x) Where relevant, appropriate shadow diagrams showing overshadowing envelopes on adjacent properties.
 - (xi) Watercourses and drainage and sewerage pipes within and adjacent to the site.
 - (xii) Location of any machinery that may emit noise above that specified for the Area and the levels of potential noise emission.
 - (xiii) Location of any structure that is likely to emit lightspill above that specified for the Area and the levels of potential glare or lightspill emissions.
 - (xiv) The means proposed to deal with all stormwater and sanitary drainage.
- (j) Floor plans of each structure illustrating:
 - (i) Use of all parts of any proposed structure. Where several floors are of the same area and use, a standard floor plan may be shown:
- (k) Elevations of each building showing:
 - (i) External appearance of the building.
 - (ii) Structure heights and height in relation to boundaries.

1.4 Additional Information to Accompany Land Use Resource Consent Applications

Sections 3 and 4 of this Plan identify the issues and matters that must be addressed in any application for a land use resource consent.

2. INFORMATION TO ACCOMPANY SUBDIVISION CONSENT APPLICATIONS

2.1 For applications to subdivide land, the following information requirements may apply (in addition to that required by section 219 of the Resource Management Act).

Where required, the following information and explanation shall be shown on the subdivision plan or included in an accompanying report:

- (a) Existing and proposed easements.
- (b) Existing and proposed amalgamation conditions.
- (c) How the proposed subdivision complies with the subdivision and performance standards specified in this Plan. Where the subdivision does not meet the performance standards specified, the areas of non-compliance are to be explained.
- (d) Two copies of a plan drawn accurately to a suitable scale showing:
 - (i) All the land included in the subdivision proposal, its legal description, the boundaries of existing lots and Certificates of Title and the area and dimension of all new lots, as well as contiguous land owned by the subdivider.
 - (ii) The position of all new boundaries.
 - (iii) The location and areas of new reserves to be created, including esplanade strips to be set aside.
 - (iv) The location and area of land to vest in Council as road.
 - (v) The location and areas of any part of the bed of a river or lake which is required to be shown on a survey plan as land to be vested in the Crown.
 - (vi) Topographical features including buildings, fences and hedges, and also contours and spot heights to show the general fall of the land and appropriate grade of roads or access.
 - (vii) The location of any significant trees, heritage features or archaeological sites, including any feature that is listed in Appendix II or III of this Plan. Note: The undertaking of an archaeological survey would be desirable in some situations but it is not a mandatory requirement.
 - (viii) Areas identified on the Hazards Information Maps as being subject to a natural hazard and an assessment of how the proposal will affect or be affected by any hazard, and any measures proposed to avoid, remedy or mitigate these effects.
- (e) Copies of the current Certificate of Title for the land being subdivided.
- (f) The nature and standard of existing and proposed network utility services such as roads, sewage disposal, stormwater, electricity, gas, water and telecommunications.
- (g) Where services are not available, evidence that the following are able to be provided in respect of each and every allotment shown on the plan of the proposed subdivision:
 - (i) A stable building platform
 - (ii) A potable domestic water supply
 - (iii) Practical physical access to an existing formed legal road

- (iv) An area of suitable land large enough for the satisfactory disposal and treatment of sewage and domestic effluent
- (v) Satisfactory disposal of stormwater, such that erosion, pollution, siltation or flooding of any water course or groundwater is avoided
- (h) A report from a suitably qualified person with experience in soil mechanics, geotechnical and/or wastewater engineering as appropriate and, if necessary, records of test data, shall be provided as evidence that (g), (i), (iv) and (v) above are satisfied. Information to be provided shall include:
 - (i) A detailed soil and, if necessary, a geotechnical assessment
 - (ii) Identification of relevant topographic and drainage features
 - (iii) An assessment of actual or potential effects on soil and public health
 - (iv) An assessment of actual or potential nuisance effects
 - (v) An assessment of the likely volumes of effluent to be treated for a typical site
 - (vi) Confirmation that any existing or proposed effluent disposal system meets the requirements of the Regional Effluent to Land Application Plan administered by Environment Southland (Southland Regional Council). Such confirmation to be by way of fax, letter or Compliance Certificate from Environment Southland
- (i) Two copies of the subdivision report and two full scale copies of the plan along with a good quality A4 reduction shall be supplied.
- (j) Where a proposed allotment includes areas of significant indigenous vegetation and significant habitats of indigenous fauna as shown on the District Planning Maps, details shall be shown of areas considered suitable for any future buildings, accesses and effluent disposal fields in relation to the areas of significant indigenous vegetation and significant habitats of indigenous fauna.
- (k) Information on consultation undertaken with affected parties and the result of the consultation shall be supplied.
- (l) Where the proposed access is on to a limited access road, an assessment of the effects of the proposed access including an outline of the consultation undertaken with the relevant roading authority.
- (m) Where it is proposed to subdivide land to create new boundaries within an area measured 20m of either side of the centre point of an electrical transmission line designed to operate at or above 110kV, the applicant shall be required to include information on the following additional matters:
 - (i) The extent to which the subdivision design mitigates the effects of the lines through the location of roads and reserves under the route of the line;
 - (ii) The ability to carry out maintenance and inspection of transmission lines to avoid risk of injury and/or property damage;
 - (iii) The extent to which potential adverse visual impact is mitigated through the location of the building platforms; and
 - (iv) The outcomes of consultation with the affected utility operator.
- (n) Where it is proposed to subdivide land within the Otatara Sub-Area details shall be provided (either by spot heights or contours) to indicate the extent of variation in the natural ground level of the site.
Where natural ground level of the site varies by more than two metres the contours of the land within any new lot created shall be shown, at no more than one metre intervals. An assessment shall be undertaken of the effects of the subdivision and its implementation on the natural features of the sites.

and the means by which the natural features will be protected. This may include restrictions on the future use of the site, the location and extent of any earthworks and the identification of the building platforms.

2.2 Further Information May Be Required

Further information may be required from an applicant where it is considered necessary to obtain a better understanding of the land use activity, the effects it may have on the environment or the ways in which the adverse effects may be avoided, remedied or mitigated. Council may commission reports, at the applicant's expense, on any matters raised in relation to the application or on any environmental assessment or effects.

2. ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITES WITHIN THE DISTRICT

Archaeological sites pre-1900 are protected against any disturbance under section 99 of the Historic Places Act 1993. Permission of the New Zealand Historic Places Trust is required before they can be modified or destroyed. Under section 2 of the Historic Places Act 1993, and “archaeological site” is defined as:

“... any place in New Zealand that—

(a) Either—

(i) Was associated with human activity that occurred before 1900; or

- (ii) Is the site of the wreck of any vessel where that wreck occurred before 1900; and

Is or may be able through investigation by archaeological methods to provide evidence relating to the history of New Zealand.”

The following is a list of Southland Land District archaeological sites recorded under the New Zealand Archaeological Association Recording Scheme (which began in the 1950's). The New Zealand Archaeological Association Southland Filekeeper holds detailed records (called “site record forms”) for each of these archaeological sites – hence the Southland File is the most complete and updated source of information on these sites.

The Central Index of New Zealand Archaeological Sites (CINZAS) is intended only as a preliminary guide – general inquiries regarding the specific nature or exact location of archaeological sites on public or private property should be made to the New Zealand Archaeological Association Southland Filekeeper.

The Southland Filekeeper also maintains silent (non-public) files on archaeological sites containing burials of human remains (usually takata whenua) which are not listed below. Because of the sensitive nature of these sites, the Filekeeper maintains close liaison with iwi and the information is normally restricted. Providing the reasons for inquiry regarding burial sites are specific and genuine, the Filekeeper will endeavour to assist developers or private persons regarding the location of such sites but will liaise in the first instance with iwi.

While some archaeological sites are also considered wahi tapu, NZAA records do not specifically cover such places. Information about wahi tapu needs to be obtained from relevant iwi.

The following limitations should be noted:

- (a) CINZAS lists published in regional/district plans are limited to their date of publication and are not up to date. Updated information may be obtained on request from the Filekeeper.
- (b) A grid reference is used to give the location of a site, but it does not delimit its extent. The location of sites is usually only recorded to within about 100m but the accuracy may in some cases be less than this.
- (c) The absence of data for a particular area should not be taken to mean that it contains no archaeological sites. It may mean that no survey has been carried out, or that sites were obscured at the time that the survey was done.
- (d) Sites may no longer exist (they may, for example, have been destroyed since they were recorded).
- (e) Some types of site (historical archaeological sites in particular) are currently well under-represented in the NZAA Site Recording Scheme.
