Family Friendly Branding Criteria for Businesses & Organisations

Introduction

Families are the centre of all communities, the building blocks of our city. They need an environment where they can learn and develop the skills to become strong, motivated members of the city. The Invercargill City Council has listened to what the community has said about the needs of children, youth and their families and is proud to be taking a leadership role in the Southland Region by developing the Child, Youth and Family Friendly Policy. The Council wishes to see a “family lens” placed over all policies, strategies and initiatives undertaken and supported by the Council (Invercargill City Council, 2012).

This document addresses businesses that wish to be branded ‘friendly’. It will outline which are criteria that meet the family friendly objectives of the family friendly policy document. This will create minimum standards of practice and compliance across the city outlining a minimum benchmark for the ‘friendly’ brand.

Benefits of Branding to Business

- Able to use the 'friendly' branding and logo.
- Achievement of best and minimum standard measures.
- Promoted as a family friendly business.

Behind the branding lies a willingness of businesses to listen to families and to undertake activities to meet their needs. Valuing and welcoming families can be demonstrated in many different ways. This includes but is not limited to; a restaurant may have a suitable healthy option children's menu, a play area or children's activity and enough space for prams to pass or have highchairs at a table. Family friendly can include but is not limited to organisations that welcome breastfeeding mothers, be smoke free and be willing to be flexible enough to accommodate the sometimes unpredictable needs of children. Other ways services and organisations can demonstrate the importance of children in our community is to promote and support children's events and activities or address environmental issues that will affect the safety and wellbeing of families now and in the future (adapted from Blumsky & Kirton, 2010).

Family Friendly Criteria for Businesses and Organisations

Use of the friendly logo is encouraged for businesses that meet the criteria. Funding does exist to assist businesses with using and applying the logo. This is in consultation with the Community Development Manager.

Branding Compliance and Recognition

On completion of the compliance process businesses will be awarded a certificate as well as a window sticker that they can display in their business. From this point on further discussion on how else the brand can be utilised within the business can take place. This can include but is not limited to using the brand logo in signage, merchandise, and advertising. Businesses will be added to the family friendly list, which will be shown on the ICC website and in other promotion arenas as the brand grows.
