“To enhance our City, preserve its character and embrace innovation and change”

(Council’s Vision Statement, ICC 2018-2028 Long Term Plan)
Goals

This Strategy acknowledges the value heritage brings to our City Centre and seeks to provide tools and incentives to reach the following goals:

Goal 1
A vibrant, sustainable, and active City Centre where heritage is highly valued.

Goal 2
Key heritage resources within the City Centre are, if practicable, actively utilized, creating positive community and economic outcomes.

Goal 3
New development and adaptive re-use projects respect our City’s heritage context.

Goal 4
Heritage values and character of our City Centre are celebrated and protected.
1. Introduction

1.1 Why do we need a Strategy?

The rich variety of built heritage within our City Centre not only tells the stories of our past, but also contributes to the character of our main business area and our sense of place. There are opportunities to develop and maintain an animated City Centre that leverages heritage values. Our City Centre can embrace heritage conservation and also be a great place to do business, shop, work and live. This Strategy sets out a path to make this a reality.

We currently face a number of challenges in managing Invercargill’s City Centre heritage:

a) Earthquake-Prone Building Legislation;
b) Economics of adaptive re-use;
c) Balancing the need to conserve heritage and the need for redevelopment;
d) Lack of incentives to retain heritage buildings;
e) Loss by neglect (due to poor maintenance); and
f) Potential for unsympathetic development.

We understand that, with these challenges, not every individual item with heritage value can, or will be able to be, protected in perpetuity. It is, however, integral to ensure that the stories of our past are not lost completely and that the overall heritage value of our City Centre is protected for current and future generations.

1.2 How does the Strategy work?

This Strategy includes 11 actions that the Council will undertake in partnership with key stakeholders to guide future City Centre heritage decisions and initiatives. This will involve working with property owners, heritage organisations, and the community. The Strategy will evolve as it is regularly monitored and reviewed.

1.3 What is the role of Council?

Council believes it is possible to enhance the City Centre by integrating innovative redevelopment into Invercargill’s heritage properties and streetscapes. This Strategy has the potential to contribute to a number of community outcomes identified by the Council, in particular:

- Invercargill is celebrated for preserving its heritage character;
- Invercargill’s character is embraced through community projects; and
- Invercargill’s business areas are bustling with people, activities and culture.

The development of this Strategy acknowledges that Council has a number of regulatory obligations relating to heritage, such as:

a) Resource Management Act, 1991
b) The Building Act 2004
c) Earthquake-Prone Building Legislation, 2016
d) Invercargill City Council Bylaw 2017/2 Environmental Health “Historic preservation is not about stopping change or pushing out exciting new architecture and development. Preservation allows us to retain the best of shared heritage to preserve sites of unique quality and beauty, revitalize districts, spur economic revitalization, and, quite simply, create better communities.”

(Ken Bernstein, “The Ten Myths About Historic Preservation” for Los Angeles Conservancy)
1.4 What is the scope?

All heritage resources throughout Invercargill will remain recognized for their heritage value. However, this Strategy focuses on those within the City Centre Heritage Area (indicated on page 7). Within the City Centre Heritage Area there are over 80 buildings with recognized heritage value: 22 have been registered by Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga, 64 are considered locally significant, and respective portions of Tay and Dee Streets are recognised for their high streetscape value.

All actions within this Strategy focus on awareness and retention of heritage values. However, due to Invercargill’s large heritage inventory, the Council has created a list of heritage resources of greatest importance to the community to initially focus incentives towards. The list was informed by public feedback in March 2018, recommendations from the Origin Consultant report Heritage Buildings Re-Assessment 2016, and several Heritage New Zealand building reports. The list includes 23 buildings (including one Council-owned building) and two streetscapes.

Although not every building within the City Centre Heritage Area has documented heritage value, the potential redevelopment and use of non-heritage buildings will be encouraged to reflect the integrity and character of its heritage surroundings.

The list of priority heritage resources includes:

2.3 Monitoring and Review

A six-monthly progress report will be brought to the Council by the Steering Group. The Strategy will be reviewed as a whole one year after its adoption by Council to monitor its effectiveness in working towards the goals and every three years thereafter.

By continuing to seek input from heritage owners, heritage organisations and the wider community, all efforts will combine in ensuring that the City Centre’s heritage character is preserved and potentially enhanced for the benefit of those who visit, shop, work, invest and live in our City Centre.
