

What's on at the Library in September?

WRITING UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF FICTION, HISTORY AND IMAGINATION.

Thursday September 19, 5.30 – 6.30pm, Library Meeting Room.

The Dan Davin Literary Foundation is excited to announce that the Dan Davin Writers in Residence for 2019 are Maxine Alterio and Majella Cullinane. On Thursday 19 August, come into the Library for an informal talk about the process of writing, some readings from their books, and information about the Dan Davin residency.

Invercargillnz.com gets a facelift

INVERCARGILLNZ.COM is a digital hub for our city retailers, which was launched simultaneously with our branding in 2017.

It includes a comprehensive business directory and shopping portal enabling consumers to buy directly from a range of local businesses.

Council staff are working with retailers to help them utilise the website as best they can to promote their businesses, and the city.

It is an excellent resource for visitors with up-to-date events and attractions sections.

Staff are working to get Invercargillnz.com working seamlessly. If you know of a business which would be keen to get involved, ask them to email our Communications Advisor – Digital Media Daniel Tobin – daniel.tobin@icc.govt.nz

Maps pop up around the CBD

OUR retailer relocation maps are proving popular, with lots of business owners keen to see them installed around the city.

City Centre Co-Ordinator Shru Shrivastava has had the maps printed and put up around the city block earmarked for redevelopment, including on Esk Street, Tay Street, Dee Street, and Kelvin Street.

The maps are also available for download and print on www.icc.govt.nz and www.invercargillnz.com

We will update these maps with more relocations as they occur.
