Electing 12 City Councillors

Barry STEWART

LETS GO Invercargill

My principal place of residence is in the Invercargill City Council area.

Barry Stewart is a semi-retired certified gasfitter who brings both governance and business skills to the role of city councillor.

A born and bred Southlander, Barry is standing for council because of his continued dissatisfaction with the present administration, and the apparent lack of cohesion in decision making.

With 13 year experience as an executive member of the Invercargill Working Men's Club, Vice President of the Invercargill Bowling Club, and also Past President of the Kew Bowling Club - Barry understands how governance works, and believes he can help improve relations around the council table.

I am 100% for: Keeping our existing recycling contract; Rebuilding of our museum; More transparency and community engagement in decision making; Improving beautification of the city.

I am strongly against: The Three Waters government grab of our ratepayer assets and infrastructure; The framework around co-governance - both have been carried out without public consultation.
